WARRIOR Alpha XCL Stainless is a replacement blade for hockey players who need a compatible setup for the XCL Holder during practice and games. Made of stainless steel, this blade is designed for regular use on the ice and combines stable glide with precise control during direction changes, starts, and stops.

- Product Type: Replacement blade for ice hockey skates
- Compatibility: Fits Warrior skates with XCL Holder
- Material: Stainless steel
- Skating characteristics: stable combination of glide, control, and maneuverability
- Intended use: Regular training and games
- Finish: silver
- Package contents: 1 pair

Especially in everyday club life, it's important that a replacement blade not only fits properly but also feels reliable on the ice. This model is primarily designed for players who want to replace worn-out or damaged blades without making unnecessary compromises on skating performance. The stainless steel provides the durability required for frequent ice time, making it a sensible choice for both team players and ambitious young players.

To determine the correct length, check the millimeter marking stamped on your current holder or runner.
