- Intended use: Training and games in senior hockey

For club players in particular, choosing the right stick is about more than just a number on the shaft. The combination of senior size, 70 hardness, and W28 curvature is designed for players who control the ball, move it quickly, and seek reliable feedback when passing or shooting. In everyday play, this is especially noticeable when time is tight and the first touch has to be spot-on.

When selecting a stick, pay attention to the blade orientation, length, and stiffness to ensure the stick matches your playing style.
