Product information

Protection size-1: SR

The WARRIOR LX 20 SR is a shoulder pad for senior players that seamlessly combines protection and mobility. The newly shaped, flatter shoulder caps fit close to the body and provide a slim profile that offers noticeably more freedom of movement on the ice during quick changes of direction and tight playing situations.

- Technology: molded EVA Impax foam padding with a textured surface
- Protection: Additional padding in key impact zones
- Construction: flat-shaped shoulder caps with a close-fitting design
- Fit: sleek design with plenty of freedom of movement
- Closure: high-quality straps for a secure fit and easy handling
- Interior: Breathable, quick-drying inner jacket
- Lining: Poligiene lining to reduce bacterial and germ growth
- Sizes: Senior in XS, S, M, L, and XL

Especially during regular training and intense games, a shoulder pad that doesn't add bulk but still provides protection where it counts is essential. The combination of a flat design, additional cushioning in high-impact zones, and a breathable inner construction ensures a flexible, comfortable fit even when the pace of the game remains fast. The quick-drying lining helps wick moisture away more quickly, keeping you comfortable during longer sessions.

When selecting a size, choose the appropriate adult size to ensure the pad fits snugly against the body and doesn't slip.
