Product information

Protection size-1: SR

WARRIOR RISE SR is body armor designed for everyday hockey play, offering a seamless blend of protection and mobility. The multi-layered foam construction covers key areas without adding unnecessary bulk. This is especially helpful during regular practice and games, where quick changes of direction, stick handling, and tight one-on-one battles are the norm.

- Product Type: Hockey Body Protection
- Protection system: Multi-layer foam
- Protection areas: Protection for key body zones with a lightweight design
- Feel: Designed for freedom of movement
- Closure: Flat-lying straps
- Usability: Easy to adjust; does not snag on the jersey
- Age group: SR
- Sizes: XS, S, M, L

On the ice, the advantage is particularly evident when the gear needs to fit unobtrusively. The flat straps ensure that nothing gets in the way when putting on the jersey or during movement. At the same time, the body protection remains comfortably slim, which is particularly appealing to club players and ambitious junior players in the senior division who are looking for a simple and flexible protective solution.

For a clean fit, it's worth choosing the right size within the SR model.
