Product information

Protection size-1: SR

WARRIOR ALPHA PRO BLACK SR is a shoulder and upper-body protector designed for everyday ice hockey use, engineered to provide a slim fit with noticeable freedom of movement. Especially during regular practice and games, it's crucial that protective gear doesn't feel bulky. This is exactly where this model excels, with its flat shoulder pads and flexible overall design.

- Product Type: Ice hockey shoulder pads, size SR
- Shoulder pads: flat-profiled and contoured for a slim fit and mobility
- Protection design: compression-molded foam in key impact zones
- Additional protection: floating padding along the spine and sternum, as well as a removable abdominal protector
- Strap system: low-profile straps that won't snag on your jersey
- Adjustment: Adjustable strap lengths at the waist and biceps
- Ventilation: Ventilated inner jacket for a lightweight, flexible feel
- Available sizes: XS, S, M, L

In action, the balanced interplay between protection and mobility is particularly noticeable. The freely suspended elements in the back and chest areas support movement during one-on-one situations, stick handling, and in tight game situations without unnecessarily restricting the upper body. The ventilated inner construction also helps ensure that the gear remains comfortable even during intense training sessions.

For a clean fit, choose a size based on your shoulder width and upper body circumference.
