Product information

Protection size-1: JR

Three-piece design for freedom of movement The three-piece design allows the biceps, elbow, and forearm areas to move independently of one another. The result is an elbow pad that follows the arm's entire range of motion—from a fully extended shooting position to tight stickhandling close to the body—without restricting flexibility or power transfer. IMPAX Foam Where It Counts The compression-molded EVA-IMPAX foam is Warrior's most advanced impact foam and is used in the key zones around the elbow joint. It absorbs repeated impacts without losing its shape. The same technology is also found in the Alpha Pro series and is strategically placed here where it provides the most protection. Practical Fit for Every Situation The Lay-Flat straps lie flat against the arm and don't catch on the jersey
