Product information

Protection size-1: SR

WARRIOR RISE SR is an elbow pad designed for everyday hockey, where mobility and reliable protection must go hand in hand. Especially during regular practice and games, it's crucial to have elbow protection that absorbs impacts and friction from contact with opponents, the boards, or the ice without unnecessarily restricting stick handling.

- Product Type: Hockey elbow pads
- Age group: SR
- Model: Rise
- Protection area: Elbow and surrounding arm area
- Intended use: Practice and games
- Sizes: XS, S, M, L
- Fit: Size-specific selection for a tailored fit

The SR model is designed for adult players seeking a clear, straightforward solution for protection in field hockey or ice hockey. An elbow pad in this category is designed to provide support where quick changes of direction, one-on-one battles, and contact with the ground are part of normal play. For club players and ambitious recreational players, it is especially important that the protection does not interfere with movement and stays securely in place during training.

When choosing a size, consider the desired fit: The pad should sit securely on the arm without restricting movement around the elbow.
