Protection size-1: JR

WARRIOR RISE JR is an elbow pad designed for youth players, offering a perfect balance of protection and freedom of movement during practice and games. Especially at a young age, it's important to have equipment that reliably protects the elbow without unnecessarily restricting stick handling.

- IntendedUse: Ice hockey training and games
- Sizes: S, M, L
- Fit: Designed for junior sizes

Elbow pads for juniors aren't just about protection during falls or tight plays along the boards. It's equally important that the pads stay securely in place during movement and don't get in the way during shots, passes, and one-on-one battles. The WARRIOR RISE JR fits perfectly into this category: a sensible choice for young players who hit the ice regularly and for parents looking for a straightforward, hassle-free equipment solution.

When selecting a size, be sure to choose the appropriate junior size—S, M, or L—so the pads fit snugly on the arm and don't slip during play.
