Especially for junior players, it's important that gloves aren't unnecessarily bulky and allow the stick to sit comfortably in the hand. This makes a difference during stick handling, changes of direction, and quick moves in tight spaces. The Covert-Lite design is part of a line engineered for a direct feel and excellent mobility. This is especially helpful for parents and club players who need their equipment ready for regular training, games, and weekend tournaments.

When choosing a size, it helps to check your current gloves or the hand size listed in the junior equipment range to ensure that protection and mobility are well balanced.
