Product information

Glove color: red

The WARRIOR FR2 YT is a youth hockey glove designed for players who need the right balance of protection, mobility, and a secure grip on the stick during practice and games. The red version fits seamlessly into any gear setup and is a great choice for young field players who regularly play indoors or on the field.

- Product Type: Hockey gloves for youth players
- Intended use: Training and games in everyday hockey
- Color: red
- Size: 8 inches
- Other available sizes: 9 inches
- Fit: Designed for junior players

For younger players in particular, it's important to have a glove that isn't unnecessarily bulky yet still provides adequate coverage for the hand when stopping, passing, and shooting. This is precisely where this model excels. The 8-inch version is suitable for smaller hands in the youth category and promotes a natural feel for the stick, which is especially important during the learning phase and in regular club practice. It also makes it easy for parents to choose the right glove when looking for one to support their child's next developmental step.

To ensure the right fit, it's worth briefly comparing the glove size with your current equipment or your current hand size.
