Product information

Glove color: navy

The WARRIOR LX2 MAX NAVY JR is a hockey glove designed for young players, and its primary purpose on the ice is to provide a secure grip on the stick without unnecessarily restricting hand mobility. This is especially important at the junior level, when technique, stick control, and smooth movements are built up step by step during practice.

- Product Type: Junior Hockey Gloves
- Model: LX2 MAX
- AgeGroup: JR
- Color: navy
- Sizes: 10 inches, 11 inches, 12 inches
- IntendedUse: Ice hockey training and games

A junior glove like this is primarily designed for young players in club settings and for parents looking for the right equipment for regular ice time. The shape of a hockey glove aids in stick handling, passing, and quick hand switches along the boards or during one-on-one situations. In navy, this model blends in with the rest of the gear in a sporty yet understated way. The size range from 10 to 12 inches covers typical growth stages in youth hockey and makes it easier to match the glove to a player's age, hand size, and developmental stage.

For the best fit, it's best to base your selection on actual hand size rather than just age.
