Glove color: red

The WARRIOR LX2 MAX RED JR is a hockey glove designed for young players looking for a flexible, everyday solution for both practice and games. The junior version is aimed at young field players for whom a balanced combination of protection, stick grip, and a clean fit is particularly important.

- Product Type: Hockey glove for field players
- Age group: Junior
- IntendedUse: Training and games in everyday hockey
- Color: red
- Size: 10 inches
- Other sizes: 11 inches, 12 inches

Especially at the junior level, a glove shouldn't be unnecessarily complicated but should immediately provide a natural feel on the field. This model is perfectly suited for that purpose: compact enough for active stickwork, yet designed so that young players aren't restricted when receiving passes, making passes, or in tight game situations. The red version stands out as part of the equipment without distracting from what matters most.

For parents and clubs, the right length is especially important. The selected 10-inch version should match the player's hand size and age group; if more space is needed, 11- and 12-inch sizes are also available.
