Pants like these are especially practical for club players and teams in their daily routines: The zippers at the outer ankles make it easy to put them on and take them off, even when you're in a hurry in the locker room. Closable side pockets provide space for small items that need to stay within reach on the way to practice or around the gym. The welded zippers blend seamlessly into the sporty design, while the subtle lettering on the calf keeps the look understated.

The fact that this is an SR model makes it easier to choose the right size; the pants are available in sizes S through XXXL.
