A polo shirt like the WARRIOR MT131161 Alpha X Base strikes exactly the right balance that's often sought after in the hockey world: sporty enough for the locker room, travel, and team events, yet a bit more dressy than a classic T-shirt. This makes it particularly appealing for adults in club settings, where clothing needs to be not only practical but also fit into the team's overall look. The muted gray color scheme pairs effortlessly with other team apparel.

When choosing, the most important factor is selecting the right size within the SR range so that the polo shirt fits comfortably for everyday wear and during training.
