For club players and teams in particular, what matters most in a jacket is its versatility for training and games. This model fits the bill perfectly: quick to put on, sporty in appearance, and ideal for situations where a practical extra layer is needed between the locker room, the stands, and the team area. Thanks to the selection of adult sizes, the jacket fits seamlessly into a team context as well as for individual players looking for a simple solution for regular hockey activities.

To help you choose, take a quick look at the desired adult size to ensure there's enough room to move comfortably over your gear and team uniforms.
