WARRIOR HOSE COVERT TECH NAVY SR are training pants designed for everyday hockey use—whether you need some freedom of movement and hassle-free functionality before the warm-up, on your way to the arena, or after the game. The polyester fabric with a soft terry cloth lining is comfortable to wear, while the closable side pockets keep small items securely stowed away.

Product information

The zippers on the outer ankle are especially practical for club players who regularly put on and take off their gear. This makes it easier to slip the pants on during hockey games or quickly adjust them when changing in the locker room. The elastic waistband ensures a secure fit without unnecessarily restricting movement during practice. Thanks to the welded zippers and clean design, the model has a sporty and modern look; in navy, it's both understated and suitable for team wear.

Available in SR sizes S through XXL.
