The WARRIOR T-SHIRT COVERT TECH RED SR is a lightweight performance shirt designed for training and everyday hockey, when mobility and a dry, comfortable feel are essential—whether on the ice or in the arena. The thin polyester fabric is lightweight, while Wartech technology wicks sweat and moisture away from the body.

- Technology: Wartech Moisture Management
- Material: 100% polyester, thin and lightweight
- Construction: Structured, pre-shaped shoulder panels
- Side Panels: Concealed stretch panels in a contrasting color
- Details: Printed logos, tone-on-tone W logo on the lower back
- Uses: Training, off-ice, and indoor sports
- Color: Red
- Size: SR in S, M, L, XL, XXL, and XXXL

Especially for club players who train several times a week, it's important to have a shirt that stays comfortable during movement and doesn't feel heavy even under gear. The pre-shaped shoulders support a natural fit, which is especially noticeable during repeated stick movements and quick changes of direction. In addition, the stretch panels on the sides provide a bit of extra freedom of movement without making the athletic cut look sloppy.

When choosing a size, it's worth considering your preferred fit—whether you'd like the shirt to be more form-fitting or to have a bit more room.
