WARRIOR COVERT TECH BLACK SR Pants are training and team pants designed for everyday hockey use, when freedom of movement and comfort are essential both on and off the ice, as well as in the arena. The polyester outer material is lined with soft terry cloth, making the pants comfortable—especially during cooler sessions or on the way to practice.

- Material: 100% polyester
- Inner material: soft terry cloth

Pants like these are especially practical for club players and teams during practice because they can be easily worn over sportswear and don't slow you down when changing clothes. The zippers on the outer ankle make it easy to put them on and take them off, while the elastic waistband ensures a secure fit. Closable side pockets are helpful for everyday use in the gym or locker room when you don't want to carry small items loose. The understated black design with tone-on-tone details fits well within a team context and has a subtly athletic look.

To find the right fit within the SR line, be sure to check out the size range from S to XXXL.
