The black Team Stadium jacket is particularly well-suited for young players and clubs where a uniform look is just as important as sportswear suitable for everyday use. In hockey, a jacket like this is often quickly thrown on when heading from the locker room to warm-ups, to the bench, or back home. A junior-sized selection ensures the jacket isn't unnecessarily baggy or too tight.

When selecting a size, it's worth checking the desired JR size to ensure there's still enough room for protective gear or training clothes.
