In inline hockey in particular, the right wheel setup makes all the difference: acceleration, precise edge pressure, and predictable handling in tight turns depend heavily on the setup. These Labeda wheels are designed for indoor use, where grip and a smooth ride are especially important. The medium setting appeals primarily to players looking for a balanced mix of grip and ride characteristics without committing to an extremely soft or very hard setup. This 4-pack is also a practical choice for teams looking to upgrade their tried-and-true equipment for training and games.

Important when selecting: The 80 mm wheel size should match the chassis you’re using and your skate’s existing setup.
