Shoe color:	white

The ASICS UPCOURT 5 GS is an indoor shoe for children and teens ages 10 to 14, designed to provide a secure, flexible fit during training and school sports. Especially during quick changes of direction indoors, a comfortable fit that doesn’t unnecessarily constrict the foot is essential. Available in white and size EU 33.5, this model is designed for young players who want a shoe that combines comfort, support, and everyday practicality.

- Product Type: Indoor shoe for children and teens
- Fit: comfortable with a softer, adaptable feel
- Upper: wider mesh panels for greater flexibility
- Stability: supportive overlays in the midfoot area
- Movement: Designed for multidirectional movements on indoor courts
- Durability: Durable reinforcements on the toe and heel caps
- Size: EU 33.5
- Color: white

On the indoor court, the combination of flexibility and support really stands out. The wider mesh panels give the shoe a more comfortable, softer feel, while the reinforcements in the midfoot provide more guidance during lateral movements. Added to this are sturdy zones at the toe and heel, which are useful for regular training and the often-intense daily routine at school or in a sports club.

When choosing a pair, finding the right indoor shoe size is key—it ensures your foot stays stable in the shoe while still allowing for enough freedom of movement.
