Product information

EXEL FOX40 TAKTIKTAFEL CLIP is a compact clipboard for floorball that makes it easier to give quick, clear instructions during practice and along the boards. Especially for coaches, trainers, and schools, having a clear surface where running routes, set plays, and lines can be quickly marked is essential during hectic moments.

- Product Type: Floor board for floorball
- Applications: Training, game preparation, and coaching during matches
- Functionality: Writing and planning aid with a clip for securing documents
- Training benefits: Quickly visualize tactical sequences and substitutions
- Design: Compact size for use in the gym and locker room
- Target audience: Coaches, clubs, teams, and schools

In everyday floorball, it's often necessary to get to the point without long interruptions. This is exactly where a clipboard shines: Formations, pressing strategies, or power play variations can be drawn directly onto it and, if needed, carried along in an organized manner alongside notes or game sheets. This is particularly practical for regular team practices, youth development, and school programs, where different groups need to be organized clearly and efficiently.

The most important factor for effective use is that the format and handling suit your own coaching style and the space you have available for notes.
