EXEL WRISTBAND ESSENTIAL is a simple sweatband for training and games, designed for intense sessions when you need to keep your wrists feeling dry. Especially indoors and during quick stick changes, its value lies in its simple, direct function: absorbing moisture and comfortably complementing your equipment during movement.

- Product Type: Wristband for hockey and training
- Uses: Training, games, and general sports activities
- Fit: Worn on the wrist
- Function: Helps keep your wrist feeling drier during physical activity
- Color: black
- Model: ESSENTIAL

This black wristband is particularly well-suited for players who participate regularly in club activities and value small, practical pieces of equipment. In everyday hockey, it's often precisely these details that make a difference during a session, because nothing gets in the way and the wrist remains comfortable even during longer training sessions. The understated design pairs easily with a variety of team and training apparel.

When choosing wristbands, it's worth considering the desired fit on your wrist to ensure the comfort level matches your gear and the intensity of your training.
