The FOX CAUL FINGERGRIP Referee Whistle is a referee whistle designed for hockey, featuring a finger grip design that provides noticeably greater control during everyday play. Especially during quick changes of direction, clear game interruptions, and frequent use in practice or matches, it’s important to have a whistle that stays within easy reach. The black design keeps the look simple and functional.

- Product Type: Referee whistle for hockey
- Design: Caul Fingergrip
- Handling: With finger loop for a secure fit on the hand
- Application: Refereeing during training and competition
- Color: black
- Accessory color: black

Unlike a simple whistle without a holder, the Fingergrip design stays closer to the hand and can be used more quickly in dynamic game situations. This is particularly useful for referees, coaches, and club officials when clear signals are needed on the field or in the gym without having to reach for the whistle. This design is also practical during repeated interruptions in training sessions because the whistle remains within easy reach at all times.

The desired handling is the key factor in making your choice: If you prefer a whistle with a finger grip, this model is the right choice for you.
