The SID SLICE TAPE REMOVER comes in handy during everyday hockey play, where old tape residue wastes time and makes changing sticks unnecessarily tedious. Especially during regular practice or in the locker room before a game, cleanly removing electrical tape from the shaft or other pieces of equipment is often much more convenient than laboriously peeling it off by hand. The green version is clearly distinguishable as a separate model.

- Product Type: Insulation Tape Remover
- Application: Hockey equipment and stick maintenance
- Function: Helps loosen and remove tape residue
- Training benefit: Facilitates quick tape changes during everyday club activities

Product information

- Variant: green
- Suitable for: Players, coaches, and teams that use equipment regularly

In hockey, tape is frequently replaced—whether for grip, feel on the stick, or after intense indoor and practice sessions. This is exactly where the Slice Tape Remover shines: It ensures a clean preparation when old tape needs to be removed before new tape is applied. This is particularly useful for club players and coaches who not only adjust and maintain their equipment once, but on an ongoing basis.

It's useful wherever tape residue needs to be removed quickly without unnecessarily prolonging the change.
