BLUE SPORTS ATTACK TRIANGLE is a simple training aid for hockey practice designed to help players develop passing skills, ball control, and precise movement patterns. These marking elements are particularly useful in everyday club activities, in youth programs, and for recurring technical drills, as they allow exercises to be set up quickly and structured in a clearly visible way.

- Product Type: Training aid for hockey drills
 - Shape: Triangular marker
 - Applications: Training indoors and on the field
 - Training benefits: Supports passing, technical skills, and movement drills

Product information

- Handling: Quick to set up and easily integrated into various exercise formats
- Target audience: Coaches, clubs, and youth teams

Especially for drills with multiple stations, a clearly marked triangle helps to precisely define distances and directions. This creates order in small groups as well as in team training and facilitates a smooth flow without lengthy setup phases. For coaches, this is especially valuable when technical training needs to be organized efficiently and every repetition must be executed precisely.

When selecting markers, it's worth taking a quick look at the planned training structure to ensure the number and arrangement of the markers match the scope of the session.
