EXEL X-BLADE NEON GREEN is a floorball blade designed for players looking for a softer feel for the ball when replacing or fine-tuning their stick. The right-handed version in neon green is primarily designed for practice and games where clean ball

Product information

control, controlled passes, and a smooth first touch are important.

- Product Type: Floorball Blade
- Brand: EXEL
- Model: X-BLADE
- Hardness: soft
- Blade orientation: right
- Intended use: Ball control, passing, and shooting technique in floorball
- Color: neon green

A soft-tuned blade often feels slightly more forgiving in everyday play and provides a direct feel for the ball, especially during technical drills, in youth programs, or for club players who prefer controlled ball handling. Especially during repeated passing drills and quick ball carries indoors, the blade's flex makes a noticeable difference in handling. The X-BLADE is a good fit for players who aren't looking for the hardest possible feedback, but rather balanced, more controllable ball handling.

An important factor in selecting a stick is the correct blade orientation: "right" means the curve is designed for players with that grip side.
