Product information

Color: neon yellow
Stock type: Right
Floorball hardness: soft

EXEL MEGALOMANIAC is a floorball stick designed for players who deliberately opt for a softer blade when replacing or switching sticks. In this right-handed version with a soft blade, the model is particularly well-suited for controlled ball reception, a refined feel for the game, and clean technical execution during practice and matches. The neon yellow color scheme perfectly complements the stick's distinctive character.

- Product Type: Floorball stick
- Model: R MEGALOMANIAC SB
- Blade orientation: right
- Hardness: soft
- Intended use: Ball control, passes, and technical plays
- Color: neon yellow

A soft-tuned floorball blade feels noticeably more flexible than a harder version. This makes it appealing to club players and youth players who dribble the ball closely, handle passes cleanly, and value a direct feel on the blade during everyday indoor play. Especially during technical drills, quick passing sequences, or when practicing shots, a softer blade often helps players build up their ball control more smoothly.

An important factor in your selection is the correct blade orientation: “right” means that the backhand side is on the right side of the stick.
