The EXEL E-LITE BLACK is a floorball stick designed for left-handed players, clearly geared toward the modern game. The E-Fect blade was developed in Finland and combines lightweight handling with a shape that noticeably enhances ball control and shots during practice and games. This setup is particularly well-suited for club players looking for a responsive stick that supports creative offensive play.

- Technology: E-Fect blade
- Construction: Stiff and stable heel for power transfer to the blade tip
- Concavity: 8.5 mm for tight ball control and precise handling
- Pre-curvature: 18 mm for easy dribbling and quick feints
- Blade angle: high and open
- Hardness: medium
- Stick type: Left-handed
- Color: black

On the field, this stick's strengths really shine when speed and technique need to come together. The pronounced concavity helps with smooth ball control and maneuvering in tight spaces, while the stiff heel construction makes shots feel more direct. Thanks to its light weight, the stick remains pleasantly agile even during quick transitions, active forechecking, and ball recovery. The strong pre-curvature also opens up opportunities for feints and creative solutions on offense.

The medium stiffness is particularly well-suited for players who prefer a balanced combination of control and a direct feel for the ball. Be sure to select the correct blade orientation (left-handed).
