The WARRIOR NOVIUM PRO SR is a composite hockey stick designed for ambitious senior players who prioritize a direct feel for the puck and a quick release. The shaft is one of the lightest models in the Warrior line and is designed for players who prefer a responsive setup during regular practice and games.

- Technology: Bevel Taper with a newly developed shaft shape
- Construction: lightweight carbon fibers with thermoplastic epoxy resin
- Playing Feel: Designed for high speed, feel, and control
- Power: Tapered construction supports a powerful shot release
- Curvature: W03
- Hardness: 95
- Stick Type: Right-handed
- Size: SR

It's especially during quick puck receptions, direct passes, and shots under time pressure that you really see what makes a lightweight shaft stand out in ice hockey. The reduced weight keeps the stick agile in your hand, while the special taper zone improves control in the lower shaft area and enhances energy transfer during the shot. The black design is understated and sporty. With a hardness rating of 95, this model is particularly well-suited for powerful senior players looking for a stiffer flex and stable performance when shooting.

When choosing flex and curve, you should consider your own shooting style as well as your preferred blade orientation (right-handed).
