in conjunction with the FLEXMOTION design to keep the shoulder area close to the body, ensuring that movements remain natural. Available in black and size SR (with body armor size S), this model fits into an adult setup for regular use on the ice.

- Product Type: Ice Hockey Shoulder Pads
- System: Anatomical Shield Design (ASD)
- Construction: anatomically shaped protective structure
- Range of motion: FLEXMOTION design for greater mobility
- Ventilation: Vent-tech technology
- Intended Use: Ice hockey training and games
- Size: SR / S
- Color: black

Club players, in particular, quickly notice whether a shoulder guard works with them or gets in the way during every move. This model is designed to effectively combine protection with freedom of movement. This is especially noticeable during longer shifts, when the equipment needs to stay securely in place despite speed, physical contact, and frequent line changes. The Vent-tech ventilation system helps ensure a more comfortable fit when the game gets intense and the physical demands remain high over multiple shifts.

For a balanced fit, the combination of SR and size S body armor should match the rest of your hockey gear.
