protective technology and an adjustable design to ensure the gear stays securely in place even during intense play. Available in black and size M, this model is designed for senior players.

- Technology: D3O 4 material
- Functionality: Foam reacts to impact, hardens as needed, and absorbs energy
- Level of Protection: Designed to meet the high demands of ice hockey
- Comfort: Designed for adjustability and a comfortable fit
- IntendedUse: Ice hockey, regular practice, and games
- Size: SR / M
- Color: black

Especially at higher levels, it's crucial that protective gear not only looks sturdy but also moves with you. That's exactly where this model excels: The combination of an adjustable fit and D3O 4 material—known from the smartphone industry—helps absorb hard impacts in a controlled manner without unnecessarily restricting movement. This is particularly relevant for club players who want to effectively protect their shoulders and upper body during one-on-one battles, boards work, and tight-space play.

For optimal protection, the senior size M should be chosen so that the shoulder pads fit snugly against the body and harmonize with the rest of the equipment.
