- Protection: Absorbs hard shots and direct hits
- Closure: New straps for easy handling and a secure fit
- Size: L
- AgeGroup: JR
- Color: black

Especially for young players, equipment that seamlessly combines protection with everyday practicality is essential. Thanks to the redesigned straps, this body protector fits more securely and can be easily adjusted even during the hectic rush before practice or a match. The combination of multi-layered foam and reinforcements helps absorb the impact of shots without making the design unnecessarily complicated. This is particularly appealing to junior players and parents looking for a clear, functional protective solution for regular ice time.

When selecting this product, be sure to choose the junior size JR and body armor size L to ensure a snug fit that won't slip.
