checks, and hard contact. Available in black and size SR/M, this model is clearly designed for senior players.

- Product Type: Ice Hockey Shoulder Pads
- System: Anatomical Shield Design with FLEXMOTION construction
- Fit: Tighter, anatomical fit for a closer fit to the body
- Mobility: Construction with improved range of motion
- Adjustment: Length-adjustable ADPTFIT straps
- Bicep Area: ADPTFIT bicep strap for individual adjustment
- Protection Area: Helps provide better coverage of the transition between shoulder and elbow protection
- Variant: black, SR, body protector size M

For ambitious club players in particular, it's crucial that shoulder protection not only offers a high level of protection on paper but also fits snugly against the body on the ice. This is exactly where the ASD FLEXMOTION design comes into play: The protection fits closer to the upper body and doesn't get in the way unnecessarily during quick changes of direction, battles for the puck along the boards, or when shooting. The adjustable straps and bicep strap make it easy to fine-tune the fit in conjunction with the elbow pads.

For a comfortable fit, the Senior size M should be chosen to match the rest of your protective gear.
