Glove size: 13inch
Glove color: navy
Brand: WARRIOR

The WARRIOR ALPHA DX NAVY SR is an ice hockey glove designed for players who seek a direct feel for the stick and noticeable wrist mobility during regular practice and games. The classic look is combined here with a modern, anatomical shape that fits more snugly across the back of the hand, effectively balancing protection and control.

- Fit: Hybrid Taper Fit with an anatomical shape on the back of the hand
- Mobility: responsive cuff for greater wrist freedom
- Thumb: flexible construction for natural handling
- Palm: Soft palm lining proven in the PRO series
- Protective Construction: VN and HD IXPE foam layers with plastic inserts
- IntendedUse: Ice hockey, practice, and games
- Color: navy
- Size: 13 inches, SR

Club players in particular notice the difference, especially in game situations that require quick hands: when handling the stick, in tight spaces along the boards, or during rapid puck movements. The flexible cuff supports this freedom of movement without compromising protection. Added to this is a soft palm that feels comfortable right from the start, making the glove ready for use without a long break-in period. The combination of multi-layered foam and additional inserts is designed to withstand the tough impacts of everyday hockey play.

At 13 inches and SR, the size should match your hand length and the rest of your protective gear so that mobility and coverage work together seamlessly.
