In junior hockey, in particular, it's important to have protective pants that don't restrict movement and stay securely in place even during frequent activity. The combination of molded HDPE and high-density foam covers the high-impact areas on the hips and thighs, while the spine protection provides additional support for the back. The durable 840D nylon shell is built for the intense demands of everyday club play, and the internal strap system helps keep the pants snug against the body. Together with the zipper and side buckles, putting the pants on and taking them off is easy—whether in the locker room before practice or when quickly changing between sessions.

When selecting junior gear, it's worth taking a close look at the proper length and fit across the hips and thighs.
