The WARRIOR Ritual G7 Junior Block Glove in white is designed for young ice hockey goaltenders who need a balance of mobility and a secure, protective feel during everyday play on the ice. Especially for youth players, it's important to have

Product information

equipment that stays lightweight, adjusts well, and supports confident handling during repeated shots.

- Product Type: Junior blocking glove for ice hockey goalies
- Protection: adjustable finger and thumb protection
- Side protection: Reinforced side panels for added stability
- Adjustment: adjustable lateral finger protection
- Thumb design: contoured thumb
- Closure: Adjustable backhand strap
- Fit: Regular
- Size/Color: YT / white

During practice and games, the lightweight design helps position the blocker cleanly in front of the body and prevents movements from becoming unnecessarily sluggish. At the same time, the adjustable protective areas ensure that the equipment can keep pace with the demands of youth athletes. The reinforced side panel provides the blocker with greater stability in situations where shots hit the blocker from the side or quick reactions are required. The backhand strap supports a secure, comfortable fit without unnecessarily restricting range of motion.

The YT size is designed for young goalies; when selecting a size, it's helpful to compare it with the rest of the goalie's equipment and their usual fit.
