The TRUE HZRDUS 7X4 is a goalie stick designed for regular use in everyday hockey. The 24-inch-long INT version is aimed at intermediate goalies who are looking for the right balance of agility, reach, and reliable puck handling during practice and games. The T31 bend and the Regular version are specifically designed to match the goalkeeper's catching and stick-handling hands.

Especially at the intermediate level, choosing the right stick length is crucial because the stick needs to fit comfortably in your hand not only when making saves but also when passing from behind the net and handling controlled rebounds. At 24 inches, the setup remains compact enough for active movement in the net without sacrificing reach in close-range situations. The T31 bend provides a familiar feel when stopping and passing the puck, which is especially important for youth and club goalies with regular ice time.

When selecting a stick, it's important to choose the right size and the correct "Regular" model based on your dominant goalie hand.
