Club players and coaches, in particular, need a sweater that doesn't restrict movement and remains easy to care for even with frequent use. The fabric, made of polyester and spandex, is designed specifically for this purpose: comfortable during movement, easy to care for in everyday use, and perfect for those moments when you're rushing between the locker room, the arena, and the ice rink. The elastic hem ensures a neat finish without feeling stiff.

When choosing SR models, it's worth taking a quick look at the desired fit in relation to your own gear and everyday clothing.
