Product information

Textile size-1: JR
Textile size: XL

The BONDERKAGE SHIRT A9 NECKGUARD JR is a neck guard designed for everyday ice hockey, where protection and a comfortable fit are equally important. Especially at the youth level, it's important to have equipment that can be worn reliably during practice and games without causing unnecessary distractions. The JR version, shown here in textile size XL, is designed for young players who need extra room for a comfortable fit.

- Product Type: Neck guard with shirt-style construction
- Protection area: Neck area for ice hockey
- Cut resistance: A9
- Comfort: Designed for comfort and a secure fit
- Agegroup: JR
- Size: XL
- Intended use: Ice hockey training and games

The shirt's design can be particularly useful in everyday hockey when the neck protection needs to fit snugly and remain stable during vigorous movement. This is often an important consideration for young players and parents, as uncomplicated, well-integrated solutions are especially needed during intense training sessions. The specified A9 cut-resistance class ranks this model very highly in terms of cut protection without compromising on comfort.

To ensure the right fit, the JR version should be selected based on the required clothing size.
