Especially in club settings, a bag system that makes trips to the arena, stadium, or on road trips less complicated is essential. A wheeled bag of this size is ideal for players, coaches, or team staff who regularly carry more than just the bare essentials. The large storage space helps keep clothing, accessories, and hockey gear all together, rather than having to carry multiple individual bags.

Anyone who frequently travels with a full set of gear should pay particular attention to the required packing capacity. 110 liters is especially suitable for transporting gear for training days or weekends.
