A bag of this size really proves its worth in everyday hockey life: pads, clothing, a change of clothes, and other gear can all be stowed together without having to rely on multiple pieces of luggage. This makes everything around practice nights, away games, or club activities noticeably easier. The Cargo-Carry model is clearly designed for storage and transport, making it a great fit for equipment that's regularly carried in its entirety.

Especially for goalie gear or extensive team equipment, the 140-liter capacity and the SR L model are well worth considering.
