A bag of this size really proves its worth in everyday club life: skates, protective gear, a helmet, and a change of clothes can all be stored together without having to pack everything too tightly. This makes it easier to pack and unpack in the locker room and keeps things organized even on trips to away games. The black-and-white design maintains a sporty yet classic look.

This size is particularly well-suited for players with a full set of ice hockey gear, as well as for teams that prioritize ample storage space during transport. Before purchasing, it's worth taking a moment to check whether the bag's capacity matches the amount of gear you have and the available space in your car or locker room.
