In hockey, in particular, it quickly becomes clear just how important ample storage space is. A bag of this size keeps everything organized when you need to carry your full gear, a change of clothes, and accessories. This is particularly useful for club players who are on the road several times a week, as well as for parents of youth players who need to fit everything into one bag on game day. The Pro model is clearly designed for sports-related use and fits into a daily routine where gear is often loaded and unloaded quickly.

Before buying, it's worth taking a quick look at the desired packing capacity, especially if the bag is intended to hold a full set of hockey gear.
