Accessory size: 15 cm

The SID TRAINING PYLON (15 cm) is a compact training aid for clearly marking the field during hockey practice. Especially in indoor facilities, on artificial turf, or during drills in tight spaces, its low height helps clearly mark running routes, passing stations, and skill zones without unnecessarily disrupting the flow of practice.

The low-profile design is particularly well-suited for drills that focus on quick changes of direction, ball handling, and coordination exercises. Compared to taller marking aids, the training setup remains close to the ground and works well for technical drills that require precise movement patterns and short reaction distances. This is practical for coaches working with youth and club teams when stations need to be set up quickly and training areas organized clearly.

Height is the key factor in selecting the right size: 15 cm works well for compact technical and coordination drills with clearly defined areas.
