- Product Type: Hockey training puck
- Model: Green Biscuit Snipe
- Applications: Stickhandling and shooting practice off the ice
- Glide characteristics: Designed for low-profile gliding on hard surfaces
- Variant: Green version
- Package Contents: 1 puck

A training puck with a smooth glide is particularly helpful for players who want to maintain their shooting technique and puck feel even between ice sessions. Unlike a traditional hockey puck, a model from the Green Biscuit line is designed for dryland drills and promotes clean movement patterns during passing, puck handling, and shooting. The Snipe version is therefore well-suited for regular practice sessions on front yards, in driveways, or indoors when working on technique.

Best used on smooth, hard surfaces; this training puck is not intended for play on ice.
