BLUE SPORTS PUCK GREEN BISCUIT PRO is a training puck designed for off-ice hockey drills that focus on clean stickhandling and smooth puck control. The PRO version is designed specifically for players engaged in regular technical training, as well as for coaches who emphasize controlled repetitions and a realistic feel when dribbling and passing.

- Product Type: Hockey Training Puck
- Model: Green Biscuit PRO

Product information

- Intended Use: Off-ice stickhandling and passing drills on hard surfaces
- Functionality: Gliding motion for fluid technical sequences off the ice
- Training benefits: Promotes precise puck control, quick transitions, and repeatable drills
- Color: green

Especially during technical training, it makes sense to use a puck that doesn't constantly bounce on asphalt, concrete, or similar surfaces and disrupt the rhythm. This is precisely where the appeal of this model lies: movement sequences can be practiced smoothly, passes arrive with greater control, and the hands remain active. This is particularly valuable for club players, youth players during supplemental summer training, and coaches working on off-ice drills, because simple alternatives like balls or standard pucks often behave very differently.

For optimal results, smooth, hard training surfaces without major unevenness are best.
