Product information

- Form: Liquid application in a compact format

For players wearing visors or protective eyewear in particular, a product like this is more than just an accessory. When warm air, sweat, and indoor conditions take their toll, an anti-fog product helps minimize interruptions and keep your focus on the ball, your teammates, and the game situation. The 60-ml size also fits easily into a gym bag, making it practical for regular club activities.

For best results, remove dirt and dust from the surface before application and follow the care instructions for your specific equipment.
