Product information

In club settings or when participating in multiple sessions per week, equipment quickly piles up in a backpack, often with little time in between. This is exactly where a mouthguard spray like the ODOR-AID MOUTH GUARD SPRAY fits perfectly into your hockey gear. It helps keep the mouthguard clean and fresh between uses and brings more order to your daily gear routine. This is especially useful for players who wear their mouthguards regularly, as well as for parents or teams who prioritize clean handling in their daily sports routine.

It's best to use it immediately after a game, before the mouthguard is put back in its case or bag.
