GRAF FOTOPUCK SPECIAL (INCLUDING PUCK) is a training puck designed for situations that require a clearly defined setup. The special version, which includes a faceplate, is particularly suitable for clubs, coaches, and players who use a complete puck system for off-ice or technical training and do not want to experiment unnecessarily with equipment.

- Product Type: Fotopuck Special
- Version: Special, incl. disc
- Applications: Technique training and shooting drills off the ice
- Construction: Puck with additional disc
- Training benefits: Suitable for repeatable sequences in stick handling and shooting drills

Product information

- Contents: 1 Photo Puck Special including disc

Especially in day-to-day club operations, equipment that's quickly ready to use and can be integrated directly into training is essential. The combination of puck and disc reflects a well-thought-out design that's ideal for structured technical drills, such as passing sequences, repeated shooting drills, or station-based training. This is helpful for youth and club players when movement sequences need to be practiced thoroughly and repeated regularly.

When adding to or replacing existing training equipment, it's worth taking a moment to check whether the new item is compatible with your current setup.
